Drive-Through Pizza Hits The U.P.

You knew it had to happen sometime.

A pizza restaurant in Iron Mountain is now offering the pies in a drive-through restaurant. Little Caesars is the first in the Upper Peninsula to offer the service. Drive right up to the window, and you can order a hot-and-ready pizza for five dollars.

"We get more business through the drive-through than we've had in the store for a while now because it's more convenient," said store manager Thomas Hooper.

The restaurant just opened in a new location in a brand new building and decided to add the new service. So far, it seems to be paying off.
